

VITA

[For a more complete and up-to-date version, please see my home page:

<http://www.ne.jp/asahi/kevin/var-den/home/index.html>—JKV]

John Kevin Varden

EDUCATION

- 6/93 Ph. C., Linguistics, University of Washington
- 12/92 M.A., Linguistics, University of Washington
Thesis title: Laryngeal/Labial Alternations in Japanese
- 6/90 B.A., Linguistics, University of Washington

OTHER PUBLICATIONS

- Varden, J. Kevin (1997) High Vowel Devoicing in Standard Modern Japanese: A 'slow-speech' rule in the making? Meiji Gakuin Review 98: 53-80.
- Varden, J. Kevin & Tsutomu Sato (1996) Devoicing of Japanese Vowels by Taiwanese learners of Japanese. In Proceedings of the IVth International Conference on Spoken Language Processing (ICSLP 96) Vol. 2: 618-621.
- Varden, Kevin (1995) VOT of non-monolingual speakers. Meiji Gakuin Review 93: 41-58.
- Varden, Kevin (1995) Teaching 'fast speech' reductions in the classroom: Initial results of a study in progress. Meiji Gakuin Review 92: 33-57.
- Varden, Kevin (1995) On Two-morpheme Sino-Japanese words: Are they really two—yes, two—two morphemes in one? Working Papers in Linguistics—UW 12: 147~154.
- Varden, Kevin (1992) On Japanese verbal morphology: A templatic approach. Working Papers in Linguistics—UW 10: 306-323.
- Varden, John Kevin (1992) Laryngeal/Labial Alternations in Japanese. Master's Thesis, University of Washington.