Short Essay

This is a test of your ability to respond in English to a serious question. Select one essay question from the three choices and write your response. Provide clear examples to support your view. Your answer should be between 300 and 500 words in length.

1. “Money spent by tourists has become a vital part of the Japanese economy. Instead of complaining about over-tourism, the government of Japan should make a serious effort to encourage tourists to visit parts of the country that are less popular at present, but have many interesting places and experiences to offer.” Do you agree with this statement? Also, please suggest a place somewhere in Japan or in your own country that deserves to be visited by more tourists. Explain why.
2. It is often said that China and Japan have bad political relations, but good economic relations. Do you think that is true? Give some examples of political and economic issues between the two countries. What could they achieve if they learned to get on with each other better?
3. Of all the films you have seen, which one has most influenced you in your life so far? Tell us the title of the film, summarize it and explain why it is important to you.
