教育研究活動の概略 / Brief Statement of Educational and Research Activities	Besides teaching the two courses, I conducted research on topics related to journalism and media policy in Japan. My primary focus was on discussions surrounding platform changes and the declining attention to traditional newspaper outlets. I also collected data for future research on the evolving characteristics of various broadcast program formats in Japan. In addition, many indications of the attention economy in international and intercultural contexts were part of my academic focus during this period. I completed an essay on this topic while in Japan.
