Recommended apps, websites, study English sites

We recommend these apps for studying. They help you a lot. Use the ones that work for you comfortably before you start at Meiji Gakuin!

E-book readers

These e-book readers are easy to use, and can be used on a Kindle reader, an iPad or your computer. These ebook readers are super-helpful to find and read books of all kinds. You can read on your cellphone, or tablet, laptop, or home desktop. These are two, but other ones are great too!

Online Sites for Improving English

General sites

There are many sites that help you with your English. Find the site that works best for you and make it a habit! These are some of the best!

- Mikan での順パス単アプリ
This is made for Eiken as review, but really good for learning.
- Ted Talks with support lessons <https://ed.ted.com/>
- Polyglots This works well with your reading. <https://www.polyglots.net/>
- DuoLingo - interactive games and quizzes (<https://www.duolingo.com>)
- BBC Learning English - uses BBC videos and radio broadcasts
(<http://www.bbc.co.uk/learningenglish>)
- Core Vocabulary Builder NGSL-Builder
<https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/ngsl-builder/id892335804?mt=8>
- British Council - huge collection of resources (<http://learnenglish.britishcouncil.org>)
- Voice of America English - graded news content (<https://learningenglish.voanews.com>)
- iTunes University (<http://www.apple.com/education/itunes-u/>)

TV Streaming for listening practice

- The best students all watch some TV program all the time in English! Start now watching without Japanese subtitles and you will build up your English skill. These shows are very good for spoken English. Try to listen with only English subtitles. Many are also available on YouTube. With English subtitles!

The best sites for English language listening: Netflix, Hulu, Amazon Prime

- Recommended shows from your senpai:
Modern Family, The Simpsons, Rick and Morty, Bob's Burger, The Big Bang Theory, Queer Eye, The Boss Baby, We Bare Bears, New Girl, The Office, Shameless, Black Mirror, The OC, Gossip Girl, Ugly Betty

Time Management Apps

- myHomework Student Planner <https://myhomeworkapp.com/>
This great app is pretty cheap and it helps you immensely to organize your time and keep working when you want to work, and relax when you are not working. It's like a second brain.
- StayFocusd
This app lets you block time-wasting websites so you can keep working. It has another app for your computer called "Freedom."
- Classtimetable
<https://classtimetable.app/>

Made for students, this app helps you organize your times and homework for all your classes.

Dictionaries and reference sites

There are MANY dictionaries, so find one that works well for you and get used to it. Try to get an English-English dictionary and a Thesaurus, too.

- Midori
Great English and Japanese dictionary. It gives good example sentences and you can input anything in 'romaji.' <http://midoriapp.com/>
- Weblio app
This finds everything for you in English, not just as a dictionary. <https://eije.weblio.jp/>
This mega-site has "normal" dictionaries, specialty dictionaries, translation dictionaries, single language dictionaries:

- <http://www.yourdictionary.com/>
- The two most basic and easy to use sites are:
<http://www.dictionary.com/>
<http://www.thesaurus.com/>
- This website covers over other websites and translates to English from Japanese (other language translation available, too):
<http://www.excite.co.jp/world/>
- More fun than a dictionary (Oxford has a fee for its real online dictionary), this has all manner of word-related activities, jokes, crosswords, quizzes, and a brief dictionary:
<http://www.askoxford.com/>
- This meta-search engine checks 500 online dictionaries: <http://www.onelook.com/>

Note-taking apps

You will need to take notes and keep track of many details. These apps help you remember what you need! Become familiar with them as they can help you a lot to stay organized.

- Evernote
This app lets you take notes easily and quickly. It has a photo function to. The best part is it connects to all your devices (computer, ipad, phone, everything). It automatically syncs your notes everywhere.
- Google Keep
Does the same as Evernote and connects to your Google account.
- One Note
You will get a One Note account at the university. What they do is let you store your files in "the cloud" so you can access your files from anywhere. You can also share files with friends or groups. It's a safe way to store your files so you will not lose them.
- Dropbox and Google Drive
These two apps are similar and help you to never lose your files and organize yourself.
- Scrivener
This is a great writing tool. It works like Word, but helps MUCH more to stay organized!

Computer programs

These are all programs that you will probably use at university, so if you can, become familiar with them and figure out how to use them. You will probably use them in your working life, too!

- Office
- OneDrive
- Word
- OneNote
- Excel
- Powerpoint
